Opening Provocation

Why do payments matter and how are they changing? Where does the UK stand globally? Where is the opportunity? And what do we need to hear today to ensure we seize it?

Bryan Zhang, Co-founder and Executive Director, CCAF

Agentic Commerce: How Can The UK Lead The World?

What are firms doing now; where will agentic commerce emerge and take off; what gives the UK strong foundations; what do we need in UK to be a world leader?

Yalini Arinaminpathy, UK CEO, Paysafe
Tom Burton, Director of External Affairs & Public Policy, GoCardless
Megan Coulson, Head of UK Government Relations, Stripe
Jeff Tijssen, Co-Founder and MD Advisory, Brainfood

Consumer Trust When Machines Make The Purchase

When an AI agent makes a purchase, who is accountable if something goes wrong? In this session we explore the trust questions that sit at the heart of the next phase of digital payments, including authentication, consent, fraud and dispute resolution in an agentic world, and how the industry can design payment experiences that are both effortless and worthy of consumer confidence.

Elliott Wiseman, Chief Legal Officer, Paysafe
Natasha de Teran, Author & Panel Member, PSR Panel
